

LUDWIG-
MAXIMILIANS-
UNIVERSITÄT
MÜNCHEN

INSTITUT FOR SOCIOLOGY
PROF. DR. KATRIN AUSPURG
DR. GERRIT BAUER
DR. PATRICK RIORDAN

Information on the Seminar in Venice Venice International University, San Servolo

Program

Monday, November 21st, 9.30 a.m., to Thursday, November 24th, ca. 1.00 p.m.

The full program is sent to all participants.

Accommodation

There are pre-reserved rooms on the island San Servolo, which participants may book. Of course, you are free to stay anywhere else, too. This year there is no group reservation in the Istituto della Pietà.

To book a room on San Servolo, the booking document („Accommodation Rational Choice 2016“) must be filled out and sent to the reception on San Servolo by July 31st 2016. By this date, a down payment of the rate for the first night and the tourist tax must be made.

Rates (in EUR per room and night, excluding tourist tax):

Single 76.- / double 108.- / triple 128.-

Bills must be covered during the stay by each participant individually. The pre-booked rooms are allocated on a „first come, first serve“-basis.

Other hotels with positive reviews from former participants:

- Pensione Wildner (www.hotelwildner.com)
- Hotel Paganelli (www.hotelpaganelli.com)
- Hotel Becher (www.hotelbecher.com)
- Casa sul Molo (www.casasulmolo.it)

Here, there are no pre-booked rooms. However, there is usually no shortage of beds in Venice in November.

Registration and Conference Fee

Registration by e-mail to venice@soziologie.uni-muenchen.de is mandatory (please remember to inform your co-authors accordingly!). The limited number of seats is assigned in the order of the registrations. The rent for the conference room and facilities is kindly covered by the Institute for Sociology at LMU. There is no conference fee.

Talks

Talks should be no longer than 20 minutes to leave ca. 10 minutes for questions and discussion. The conference language is German, although there will likely be an English day as well. However, we ask all presenters to prepare English slides. A Windows PC with MS PowerPoint and a PDF-reader and a projector are available. Mac users, who want to use their own computer, require their own VGA-adapter.

Posters

Maximum size: DIN A0 portrait format (or, if appropriate, DIN A1 landscape format). Poster panels and pins are provided by VIU. Right before the poster session, poster presenters are invited to give a short introduction – max. 2 minutes – of their work to the audience. We ask all presenters to prepare English posters. Tips for the preparation of the posters are provided on the seminar webpage. For the first time, the best posters will be awarded a poster prize on Thursday.

Internet on San Servolo

To access the wifi in the conference room or the PC room, please use the login and password provided by e-mail before the seminar. Participants staying on San Servolo have free access to the wifi from their rooms.

Facilities on San Servolo

The reception is open 24 hours. There is a refectory, where breakfast, lunch, and dinner are served. The set meals for lunch and dinner are usually around EUR 11.- and breakfast is EUR 7.-. There is also a bar, which provides drinks, coffee, and small snacks between 8 a.m. and 7 p.m. The refectory and bar accept cash only! Please bear in mind that there is no ATM on San Servolo.

Directions

The island of San Servolo is reached by water bus (“Vaporetto”) number 20 from San Zaccharia (walking distance from Saint Marc’s Square). The timetable and directions from the airport and station can be found here: <http://www.univiu.org/viu-quick/how-to-get-viu/>.

Contact

In the event of any questions contact venice@soziologie.uni-muenchen.de